

HAIN'S VERSION OF THE MURDER

His Attorneys Say That They Will Prove He Tried To Prevent Annis' Death.

CLAIM EVIDENCE IS MANUFACTURED

Say Captain Peter Hains Is Mentally Unbalanced And That Thornton Tried To Prevent Him From Shooting The Club Man.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Flushing, Dec. 26.—Thornton Hains' defense promises to be most sensational if the statements of his attorneys mean anything and the coming few days it is expected will develop much.
Claim Falsehood
Joseph Shay, associate counsel for Hains, on trial for complicity in killing W. E. Annis, said today in outline prove this to be a fact.
Wanted Peace
He went on to state that Thornton Hains had nothing whatever to do with Annis' death and would have prevented the shooting between the two men if it had been possible to do so.

NEWS FORECAST OF THE COMING WEEK

Governor Hughes of New York Will
Be Inaugurated for Second Term on Next Friday.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., Dec. 26.—Many and varied ingredients will enter into the dish to be served to readers of newspapers the coming week.
Brilliant social doings at the White House, legislative caucuses for United States senators, inaugurations of governors, celebrations of the birth of the new year, meetings of countless educational bodies—all these and countless other events of greater or lesser interest to the public at large will have a place in the news menu for the coming seven days.
Invitations are out for a small dinner at the White House Monday evening. This is Mrs. Ethel Roosevelt's coming-out ball, and, as already announced, will be supplemented by three informal dances later in the season.
New Year's day in the nation's capital will be observed with all its traditional brilliance, and another will be added to the long list of receptions at the White House, where the President and Mrs. Roosevelt will receive the hundreds of people of all classes who call to pay their respects.
Legislative caucuses for United States senators will be held in several states, notably in Ohio, where Charles P. Taft and Representative Burton are fighting for the seat of Senator Foraker, and in Indiana, where half a dozen democratic aspirants are contending for the honor of succeeding Senator Hemenway, republican.
On the first day of the new year
Governor Hughes of New York will be inaugurated for a second term with ceremonies that promise to be more than usually elaborate. On the same day George L. Lilley of Connecticut and several other governors chosen at the November election will be installed in office.
On Friday the departure of the cruiser Prairie from Havana will mark the beginning of the evacuation of Cuba by the American troops.
Fifteen of the eighteen members of the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce are scheduled to leave Charleston Monday for Panama to inspect the progress of the canal work there.
A monument erected by the Troquais Memorial association in Chicago in memory of the 600 victims of the Oroquieta theatre fire will be unveiled Wednesday, which will be the fifth anniversary of the terrible catastrophe.
Mississippi will be added to the list of "dry" states Friday, when the statutory prohibition bill passed by the legislature a year ago will come into operation.
The obnoxious pension law, which has attracted the attention of all civilized countries, will come into effect in Great Britain the first of the year.
This means that on and after next Friday every person in Great Britain over seventy years of age, who is not a lunatic and has not been convicted of crime, and whose income does not exceed $150 a year, will be entitled to a pension of five shillings a week from the public treasury.
The customary holiday week meetings of state teachers' associations and numerous learned and scientific bodies will afford a veritable feast of reason and flow of words throughout the land. One of the largest of these authorities will be the convention of the Southern Educational association, which will hold forth in Atlanta for three days.
Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 26.—Beginning with the first of January every merchant dealer in Milwaukee, wholesale and retail, will have to procure a license from the health department.
The license gives the health commissioner authority to examine the stock whenever he desires and if the dealer be convicted of disposing of unhealthy meat the license will be revoked and the dealer put out of business. The license costs one dollar and the dealer declining to take out one is subject to a fine of not over $100.

71ST BIRTHDAY FOR HERO OF MANILA BAY

Admiral George Dewey Receives Congratulations From Hosts of Admirers in Country.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., Dec. 26.—Admiral George Dewey, who received from Congress a vote of thanks and the rank of admiral in recognition of his distinguished services in the battle of Manila Bay, celebrated his seventy-first birthday today. His friends and admirers throughout the country remembered the anniversary with a flood of felicitations greetings and good wishes.
Admiral Dewey, despite his seventy-one years, is in the full enjoyment of robust health. With the exception of a summer vacation at his old home in Vermont he remains in Washington the greater part of the year.
When in the city he never fails to spend several hours each day in his office in the Mills building, and frequently he is on hand before any of his clerks. As president of the general board he keeps in close touch with all that the navy does and it is safe to say that no one in the land has followed with closer attention of keen interest the progress of the Atlantic battleship fleet on its trip around the world than has the hero of Manila Bay.
As admiral he is always on the active list, and unlike any other officer in the army or navy cannot be retired for age or any other cause. At the same time he never works if he profers to do nothing and as long as he lives he will receive the full pay of his grade, $15,500 a year.

MUST TELL WAYS IN WHICH MONEY SPENT

Election Court Meets to Investigate Charges Made by New Haven Man Regarding Election.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New Haven, Conn., Dec. 26.—An election court composed of Judge Silas A. Robinson and William L. Bennett met today to investigate the charges brought by George L. Fox of this city, alleging violations of the corrupt practices act by Governor-elect George L. Lilley and his political agent and others. State Senator Stiles Jackson and Lucien F. Durpee appeared as counsel for Mr. Lilley.
The complaint was represented by Walter C. Fleming of New York, who assisted Governor Hughes in the insurance and gas investigations.
Much interest is manifested in the investigation of the charges against the Governor-elect as the case is the first to be brought under the corrupt practices act. Professor George L.
Fox, the complainant in the case, is one of the authors of the corrupt practices act of Connecticut.
Mr. Lilley's statement of campaign expenses, filed in accordance with the new law, showed that he spent over $25,000 by financial agents to be elected governor at the November election.
His democratic opponent, Judge A.
Heaton Robinson, swore to having spent $23,000 in his campaign, while the anti-Lilley republicans spent $15,000.
In Professor Fox's petition for an investigation he alleged that Mr. Lilley before and on election day through agents gave money to Waterbury saloon keepers to treat electors and left money with other saloon keepers throughout the state for the same purpose, all of which was done to influence voters for Lilley. It was charged that Lilley through other agents put money into social and athletic clubs in Waterbury for the same purpose. Fox alleges also that Lilley's sworn statement purporting to be an itemized account of what money he expended does not contain the names of men to whom he had paid money to further his election and of other men who went around in violation of law to get delegates to vote for Lilley in the state convention.

EDUCATORS GATHER FOR GOOD PROGRAM

Southern Educational Association to Hold Nineteenth Annual Meeting Next Week.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 26.—Teachers from all parts of the south, among them many educators of wide fame, will flock to this city during the coming week to attend the nineteenth annual meeting of the Southern Educational association. The convention will open Tuesday, and continue three days. Every southern state from Maryland to Texas and from Missouri to Florida will be represented.
From present indications the gathering will be the largest and most representative of its kind ever held in the south.
Among the educators, clergymen and other persons of note who will be present and take part in the proceedings are: President R. W. Mc-Granahan of Knoxville college, Superintendent J. H. Phillips of Virginian, Chancellor D. H. Barrow of the University of Georgia, President Charles F. Mosser of Shaw university, Miss Harriet E. Giles of Spaulding seminary, ex-Governor W. J.
Northen of Georgia, Dr. George Sale, secretary of the Baptist Educational association, and Willett M. Hays, assistant secretary of agriculture of the United States.

MILWAUKEE BUTCHERS MUST HAVE LICENSE

After the First of January They Must
All Have Bit of Card to Do Business.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 26.—Beginning with the first of January every

KING'S POOR HEALTH TURNS ATTENTION TO SUCCESSOR

Spot Light Of Public Interest Is Thrown Upon
The Present Prince Of Wales.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
London, Dec. 26.—The alarmist rumors circulated in London during the past week or two with regard to the health of King Edward have had the effect of focusing public attention upon his successor, who has suddenly come in for an amount of public attention that must prove rather embarrassing for one of his retiring disposition. The public seems suddenly to have awakened to the fact that King Edward is now well advanced in years and that he is not at all likely to live to the ripe old age attained by his mother. At the same time there has come a desire to learn more about the future king, now the Prince of Wales. Although the heir to the throne is now close to forty-five years of age, the most extraordinary ignorance prevails not only abroad, but even in England concerning him. When a young man Prince George, as he is always called, was only second in succession to his father and as a consequence he did not come in for much public notice. In more recent years his retiring disposition and quiet life have served effectively to keep him out of the limelight. Regarding his political views and his tastes in other directions it may be said that the public is in absolute ignorance.
Will Reign As George V.
George Frederick Ernest Albert,
Prince of Wales and Earl of Chester, Duke of Cornwall and York, Duke of Rothesay, Prince of Brunswick and Gotha and Duke of Saxony, Earl of Garrick and Iwerness, Baron of Renfrew and Killarney, Lord of the Isles and Great Steward of Scotland—that is the full name and list of titles of the man who, upon the death of King Edward VII., will become monarch of Great Britain and Ireland under the title of George V.
The Prince of Wales is the second son of King Edward and Queen Alexandra. His older brother, Prince Albert Victor, died in 1892, leaving Prince George next in direct succession to the throne. Prince George is known as "the sailor prince." He was trained for the navy, and his early love for water has always remained with him. In his early childhood he was known as a mischievous boy, and it was as much on account of his inability to control the royal youth as from any other reason that his father decided to send him to sea.
Married May of Teck.
Prince George married Princess Victoria Mary of Teck, popularly known as "Princess May," in 1893.
In his younger days Prince George was involved in several escapades that resulted in the public of his father at the same time. But since his marriage he has had a life entirely free from anything that could be criticized either as folly or waste.
Today he is much more of a family man than was the king at his age, and it has often been said of him that he prefers to play with his children rather than attend splendid court ceremonials or to interest himself in the affairs of government. For society he carries absolutely nothing. He dresses very well, but is not as careful in his attire as the king and he never will be the "class of fashion and model of form" for the London children, as his father, the king, was in his youth.

GRANTS REHEARING IN MANITOWOC CASE

State Railroad Commission Sends the City a Christmas Present Yesterday.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Manitowoc, Wis., Dec. 26.—An order rehearing the case of the decision of the Manitowoc Gas Commissioners, has been issued by the State Railroad Rate Commission in favor of the city, coming in the form of a Christmas gift, as the date was that of December 25th. The most important part of the order, however, is that the previous order, issued December 16th, which gave the gas company authority to establish a service charge which was to become operative January 1st is suspended pending a rehearing, and the present schedule of the company will continue in force until a new decision is rendered. The city in its appeal will contend that the present rate is adequate.

ARRESTED SUSPECT OF BELOIT ROBBERY

Leo Barry from Sparta to Answer for Charge of Stealing $105.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Beloit, Wis., Dec. 26.—Deputy Sheriff Floyd Carter returned yesterday from Sparta, where he went to get Leo Barry, who was held there. Barry is the one who, it is suspected, robbed Katherine and Anna Garry of $105 on Oct. 26th. This morning in municipal court the prisoner pleaded not guilty to the charges and the prosecution examination was set for two o'clock on Tuesday afternoon. Being unable to furnish bonds of $500, Barry was remanded to the county jail.
The Salvation Army in this city distributed 85 baskets of provisions to Beloit's poor yesterday. The baskets were sent to all parts of town and each one represents a family, that was aided.
Judge C. D. Rosa has returned from Washington and California, where he went to arrange the details of a bequest of fifty thousand dollars left by the estate of Benjamin Henley, a wealthy lumberman, to the Wisconsin Home Missionary Society. Mr.
Rosa announces that he was successful in his mission.
Mrs. Minnie Naggarto died today at the home of her daughter, Mrs.
Fred Riddick, in South Beloit. She deceased was 72 years of age. She came here last February from Harvard, Ill., and had been sick a week with pneumonia. She leaves one daughter and a son, John of Harvard, to mourn her loss.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE ON CHRISTMAS DAY

Tried to Hang Himself as a Result of a Christmas Jag—Cut Down in Time.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Onkosh, Wis., Dec. 26.—After sobering a bigger Christmas "jag" than he could comfortably carry Frank Gorchels attempted to hang himself in the city jail at about 11:15 last night.
The attempt was almost successful.
He cut a handkerchief in strips and made a rope out of it which he tied to the bars at the top of his cell and then suspended himself from the other end. Another prisoner knocked on the iron bars and attracted the attention of the police and Gorchels was cut down, but none too soon. A physician was summoned and the man came out all right.

SAVAGE FIGHTING IN VICINITY OF MOSCOW

Head of the Secret Political Police
Was Killed and Others Badly Wounded.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Moscow, Dec. 26.—Baron Cotto, chief of the secret political police,
was killed and Col. Murski wounded in a fierce encounter today with the revolutionaries entrenched in a suburban villa. During the fight several policemen were killed and others wounded. Troops were summoned to aid the police and a regular battle ensued.

OBITUARY.

Arthur Jordy.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New Glarus, Wis., December 26.— Arthur Jordy died this morning at eleven o'clock at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Jordy. The deceased was a young man twenty-one years of age and had suffered with consumption for the past two years.
He was a barber by trade and was well known and much liked in his vicinity. The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon.

POLICE LOOKING FOR MUCH WANTED NEGRO

Ashland Man Accused of Engaging in "White Slave" Traffic—His Wife Arrested.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chippewa Falls, Wis., Dec. 26.—The police here are looking for a negro by the name of John Tracy, who is wanted at Ashland for engaging in the "white slave" traffic. He is supposed to be in hiding somewhere in this section. Mrs. Bertha Tracy, wife of the negro, has been arrested at Duluth on a similar charge. When arrested she had with her 2 young girls whom taken from Ashland. It is said that the Tracy had noticed the girls away from home and that they were about to dispose of them to men for immoral purposes.
Missing Man Returns.
After having been believed dead
for about six months, Patrick O'Rourke, formerly roadmaster for the Wisconsin Central, appeared here today and showered Christmas greetings and presents upon his friends and relatives. Mr. O'Rourke left here about a year ago for Montana and his relatives for six months heard regularly from him. Then his letters suddenly stopped and efforts to learn anything about him or get trace of his whereabouts proved unavailing.
Mr. O'Rourke was surprised to learn that he had been thought dead. He fixed.

HARGIS JURY WERE UNABLE TO AGREE

Were Discharged by Judge, Vote Stood Nine for Acquittal and Three for Conviction.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Irvine, Ky., Dec. 26.—The jury in the case of Beach Hargis, charged with the murder of his father, Judge James Hargis, this afternoon reported their inability to agree and were discharged. The jury stood 9 for acquittal and 3 for conviction.

BEGIN INQUIRY AS TO ELECTION PROBE

New Haven, Conn., Dec. 26.—The election court to inquire into the campaign and election expenses of Governor-elect George L. Lilley, was opened here today upon application of George L. Fox, a schoolmaster of this city, under the provisions of the corrupt practices act passed by the general assembly in 1905.

SIXTY BASKETS FOR POOR PEOPLE

SALVATION ARMY DISTRIBUTED MANY DINNERS YESTERDAY.

Mayor Heddles, Alderman Brown And Reverend McIntyre Gave Informal Talks.

Mayor S. R. Heddles, the Rev. L. A. McIntyre of United Brethren church, and Alderman Brown delivered brief addresses yesterday morning when, at nine o'clock in Salvation Army hall, West Milwaukee street, sixty baskets, each containing a complete $2.04 Christmas dinner measured for a family of average size, were doled out in the good, fine name of Charity. For, to the same purpose as the Master, who turned stones into loaves and fishes, even so were United States coins turned into Christmas dinner table delicacies.

A homely, simple room, it was unadorned save for a gladsome little Christmas tree which stood bravely in a corner, and there were a few orphic tucked here and there on the celebrated walls.

A hall in which the Ghosts of Pain did stalk in room in which the sickly yellow hand of that execrable holding, Poverty, was forced back from its fell clutch upon the gaunt wretches of humankind.

This simple, sun-kissed room was a haven, a sheltered cove, it was St. Peter's, magnificently built by Michel Angelo. It was merely a Place of Worship cramped into the second floor of a prosaic, commonplace office-building.

Its benches were formed of inexpressive pineboards and betrayed a nondescript craftsmanship. Also, the music which the little, ugly organ emitted was not satisfactory for a deep, rich, soul-broad sonata of Beethoven.

But a benignity that transcended dim cathedral aisles was shed into the room by a rosary morning sun, as points are shed by roses.

The orators of the occasion spoke in the reverse sequence in which they are enumerated at the beginning of this chronicle.

An epigrammatic sentence in Alderman Brown's address was this: "If, as Jesus said, the poor we have always with us, then it is a veritable blessing that we have the Salvation Army about."

The Rev. Mr. McIntyre talked briefly, saying with a quickened smile that he was proud to be standing in between an alderman and a mayor.

Mayor Heddles spoke as follows: "I am not in the habit of accepting invitations to make perfunctory speeches, but like to talk spontaneously, as I do this morning. I will tell you of another occasion when I was inspired to say what my heart prompted me to say: It was when my wife and I were on a tour of the Pacific Slope.

"We arrived one day in a little village where we chanced upon a Salvation Army meeting that was being held on a street corner. This salvationists were holding a earnest religious qualification for money to add the cause, but there was no response from anyone in the quite numerous crowd that had formed about them. So I said to my wife: 'I am going to exert them myself.'"

"Don't," cautioned she. "You know well enough you are no orator, and you would have all these people laughing at you."

"But," said I, "then that would be a great joke, for nobody knows me away out here on the Pacific Slope." "And so I shouldered into the midst of the concourse, and pleaded that contributions be given to help along the cause, and in a few moments I had been tossing four-bit pieces and silver dollars onto the drum."

Upon the conclusion of Mayor Heddles' narrative, Captain Fleming announced that the time had arrived for the dinner-baskets to be doled out, and asked the oldest person present to come forward for the first. This, of course, meant the oldest person in point of age, but it needed only a glancing eye to perceive that there were present many, many toddlers whose wavy locks were so pinched with curls that the weight of years and years seemed to rest thereon.

CASE AGAINST PHONE COMPANY IS SETTLED

Attorneys For Parties Sign Stipulation Which Is Filed In Circuit Court.

The case of E. E. Slipperry, plaintiff, versus Badger Telegraph & Telephone Company, defendant, has been settled. A stipulation to that effect, signed by Theo. S. Nolan, attorney for plaintiff, and Fish & Starnes, attorneys for defendant, has been filed in the Circuit Court of this county.

Mr. Slipperry was formerly manager of the company. When he ceased work for it he claimed that there was five thousand dollars due him. He brought suit for this amount. The Badger Telegraph & Telephone Company in its answer denied that it owed Mr. Slipperry anything, and alleged in a counterclaim that he was indebted to the company in the sum of two thousand seven hundred dollars.

The action was begun in the fall of 1906, but owing to the illness and subsequent death of Frank M. Fish, the president and counsel of the company, the trial of the action was delayed.

It is understood that some of the officers of the German American Bank, of Milwaukee, have recently acquired the controlling interest in the company, and a satisfactory settlement with Mr. Slipperry was brought about through their efforts.

It is also reported that the company, under its new management, will make many extensions and improvements to the property. It is possible that its headquarters may be removed from Milwaukee to Janesville. Many of the stockholders favor the change of headquarters.

VALUABLE VOLUMES ARE BEING ISSUED

State Historical Society Distributes Publications on Wisconsin History.

Four volumes are being sent to the members of the Wisconsin State Historical society, which include two original papers submitted by the Wisconsin history commission.

One of the most interesting of the volumes is a paper on the Vicksburg campaign written by the late Col. William F. Vilas and delivered by him as a paper before the Madison Literary club. The publication and distribution of this volume is made possible under a law passed at the last session of the legislature relating to the part taken by Wisconsin soldiers during the Civil war. Col. Vilas was a participant in this campaign, resigning shortly after the fall of Vicksburg.

Tells of His Capture. The second volume by the Wisconsin History commission is entitled "Capture and Escape," and is an original narrative written by John Azor Kellogg. During the war he served as captain of the Sixth Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry. The story of his harrowing experience in Confederate prisons and of his curious adventures as a fugitive after his escape is told in this volume. After the war he served as United States pension agent at La Crosse, later moving to Wisconsin, where he practiced law. He served one term as state senator, dying in 1883. The narrative was first printed in a La Crosse paper, but before his death the story was amplified.

Recently this manuscript copy was secured from his widow, who lives in Fairbault, Minn. A portrait of the author, as he looked when he joined the army at Camp Randall, is presented.

Scarce Volumes Reprinted. Because of the scarcity of some of the earlier volumes printed by the Wisconsin State Historical society, some of the volumes are now being reprinted under an act of the legislature. The sixth volume of reprints now sent out was originally published following the Civil war. Among the interesting articles was one by John Y. Smith on "Eleanor Williams and the Lost Prince," which opened a controversy that has waged into the present. The always interesting story of the founding of Madison, some of the picturesque features of early life at the capital and the question of the naming of city and county, are the themes of two symposiums, participated in by Dr. Draper, Rosaline Peck and others.

The eighteenth volume of the collection is also sent out at this time edited by Dr. R. G. Thwaites. It treats of the French regime and the British Regime until 1800.

FOUR WERE BROUGHT UP IN COURT TODAY

Spirit of Christmas and Other Spirits Prove Too Strong for Several.

Before Judge Fildes this morning William Timmy pleaded guilty to a charge of being drunk last night and was fined $2 and costs of $1.00. Being unable to pay he went down for four days.

The city of Janesville was the plaintiff in the charge brought against W. Casey, Roy Slavson and Frank Fatherson for disturbing the peace and disorderly conduct. The trio at first pleaded not guilty and the Judge held them under bonds of $100 each and set the trial for Dec. 29. Not relishing the idea of spending the intervening time in jail the plea of the accused was then changed to guilty and as this was their first offense they were fined $1.20 each and given a chance to obtain the money. The complaining witness, Frank Malena, alleged that the offense had been committed yesterday at the Union House.

FINE PLAYS AT THE OPERA HOUSE XMAS

Winning Bros. Troupe Pleased Large Audiences at Matinee and Evening Performances Yesterday.

Yesterday the acting of the Winning Bros. troupe was more applauded than at any other time of their engagement here and the houses which they drew were very large. In the afternoon they gave before a large crowd the play, "The Mysterious Music Master" and in the evening the audience present to witness the production of "Kopple's Fortune" was so large that chairs had to be placed in the aisles to accommodate them all. The good work which the troupe has been doing all the time they have been here was equalled and excelled in the acting of both plays yesterday.

After the evening performance the members of the troupe, all the actors and the stage hands of the theatre were given a treat in the form of a turkey supper, by Manager Peter L. Myers. In all, there were about thirty-five present at the festivities. This evening they will close their engagement here with the play, "Along the Mohawk."

WILL DISCONTINUE USE OF PREMIUMS

Five of the Merchants Sign Agreement Not to Use Them in the Future.

An agreement has been signed by five of the merchants of Janesville to discontinue the use of giving premium tickets with purchases after January 1. This was brought about by the merchants after a great deal of thought and consideration. In interviewing them they state that the premium lines while they had novelty at first and were accepted by the people as a gift in appreciation of their patronage, have become so extended that the time it took to show premiums, the cost, the trouble of handling them, has become a detriment to the business rather than a help. The merchants believe that by discontinuing the giving of premiums they will be better in a position to give their patrons better service, more time, attention and courtesy and demonstrate of their time in the selection of merchandise, offering power and better styles and qualities than in the past.

A clause in the agreement provides for a donation of $100 to the Storer Hospital, in case of each violation of the agreement and an additional $50 to the person who gives the information and sufficient proof of violation. In order that there will be no dissatisfaction among the people, all premium tickets issued will be redeemed up to April 1st, 1909, regardless of the amount and tickets will be given on all purchases up to January 1st, 1909, so that those who need but a few tickets more to secure any desired premium can make their purchases the first of next week and secure tickets as heretofore.

The stock of premiums on hand by the merchants have been somewhat depleted owing to the holiday demands but as there are thousands of unredempted tickets outstanding, the merchants state that their premium stocks will be replenished and full lines carried up to April 1st. No fear need be maintained by the people that their premium tickets are not as valuable as heretofore, because they are, and sufficient time is given in which to redeem them. A copy of the signed agreement will be found on another page of this issue.

MEN PROMINENT IN THE FIGHT FOR KNOX'S TUG.

When President-elect Taft announced the selection of United States Senator Philander C. Knox of Pennsylvania to fill the chief department in his cabinet, there at once was started a spirited fight for Knox's seat in the senate. There is only a little time left before the legislature meets and one of the most interesting political fights of recent years is looked for. Already there are a number of men out actively after the job. Every faction in the republican party is mixed up in this grand rush. Of course, it is to be expected that Knox's successor will be from the western side of the state, though complications have come up which may change even this.

Congressmen Burke, Dalzell and Huff are known to have had senatorial aspirations for years and, as was to be expected, have gone after the honors with a vim. Henry C. Frick, the Pittsburgh color and steel king, thinks he has had enough business and now intends to enter politics. He is being backed strongly by his Pittsburgh friends. George T. Oliver, the well known publisher of the Gazette-Times and the Chronicle-Telegraph, has a well established boom on foot, as has also William Flinn, a former state senator.

John P. Elkin of the supreme court is another candidate. One of the strongest in the field is Joshua V. Thompson, the millionaire banker of Uniontown. Whatever the result, it is to be a close, hard fight.

THE NORTHWESTERN MUTUAL LIFE OF MILWAUKEE will be represented after January 1st by FRANK A. BLACKMAN JACKMAN BLD. DISTRICT MANAGER

BURNS IS DEFEATEDJohnson Wins Championship Title on Points.*BATTLE STOPPED BY POLICE*Colored Boxer Has Best of Fourteen Round Contest with the Canadian at Sydney, Australia—Sketches of the Two Pugilists.

Sydney, N. S. W., Dec. 26.—Tommy Burns, the French-Canadian, lost the title of champion heavyweight Saturday when Jack Johnson, the big Galveston negro, defeated him in the arena at Rushcutters Bay. Johnson had chased Burns thousands of miles in order to get this match, and he won the title fairly.

The end came in the fourteenth round when the police, seeing Burns tottering and unable to defend himself from the savage blows of his opponent, mercifully stopped the fight. Previously it had been arranged that if the police interfered a decision should be rendered on points and Referee McIntosh, without hesitation, declared the big black man the winner, for all through the fight he had shown himself Burns' master in every style of fighting.

First Negro to Win the Belt.
Jack Johnson is the first negro who ever won the world's heavyweight pugilistic championship—in fact, he is the only negro who ever was permitted to battle for the honor. He was born in Galveston, Tex., in 1878 and began his ring career in 1901. He is 6 feet 1 1/2 inches in height and weighed at the ringside close to 200 pounds.

Burns was born in Hanover, Ont., in 1881, and started fighting when he was 19 years old. He is 5 feet 7 1/2 inches in height and weighs when trained for battle about 176 pounds. Burns always was a rough and ready fighter, who delighted to sail in and mix things with his adversary. Favored with great length of arm—his reach measuring 74 1/2 inches—Burns has proved himself a bad man at close range. Despite the fact that Johnson overtopped him in height by 8 1/2 inches, Burns had the better of the argument in reach by 1 1/2 inches.

Purse of $35,000 Offered.
A purse of $35,000 was hung up for the battle, which was scheduled to go 20 rounds. Of this amount Burns demanded and received $30,000, this sum to be paid him despite the outcome of the fight. Johnson had to be satisfied with $5,000 and return tickets to London for himself and his manager, Sam Fitzpatrick.

According to reports, both Johnson and Burns but heavily on themselves at the prevailing odds, which slightly favored Burns at the ringside. The fighters were trained to the hour and fought before what probably was the largest crowd that ever witnessed a pugilistic contest. Burns did his training at Darling Point, while Johnson got in condition at Manley, a seaside suburb.

Johnson's Chase of Burns.
Since James J. Jeffries retired and Tommy Burns claimed the championship, Johnson had been trying to get the Canadian boy to meet him and he had trailed him throughout the United States and even to England in quest of a match. It was not until McIntosh, the promoter of this fight, and who also acted as referee, offered a purse of $35,000 for a battle at Rushcutters Bay, a suburb of Sydney, that Burns consented to meet Johnson. Then he stipulated how the money should be split up, the size of the ring and all the conditions surrounding the fight. Johnson immediately accepted and sailed from London for Australia to begin training.

Johnson, during his ring career, has fought 61 battles, and 22 of his opponents have gone down to defeat by the knockout route.

Winner a Fine Boxer.
Not since the days of James J. Corbett has the prize ring seen so perfect a boxer as Johnson. Long and lithe, he is as graceful as a dancing master and as true as an arrow in placing his blows. Especially deft is he with his left hand, and few boxers, unless they have great skill, are able to keep the big black man from beating their faces to tatters.

In courage, Burns was a bulldog always; Johnson, it was said by some, had a "yellow streak." In none of his many battles, however, has it been proved that Johnson would not take a good beating. Neither Burns nor Johnson, however, has been considered men of the stamp of Jeffries, Sullivan or Corbett in the fighting game.

Dead Man Was from Kansas City.
Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 26.—By the means of a belt which was about the half burned and decomposed body of a man found in the woods near here several days ago, E. Valentino of Kansas City identified the body as that of Charles Heider of Kansas City.

Kills Crippled Son and Self.
Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 26.—Herman Wiedburg, a hack driver, 35 years old, Friday night killed his son Sidney, nine years old, and then shot himself, dying almost instantly. The murdered child was a cripple, never having been able to walk.

Bernhardt Meets the Czar.
St. Petersburg, Dec. 26.—Sarah Bernhardt, who is playing here, was given an audience by Emperor Nicholas Friday and was presented with a portrait of the empress.

GOVERNMENT IS AFTER PITTSBURG BANKERSDepartment of Justice Promises to Help Prosecute Boodlers of the Smoky City.

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 26.—Uncle Sam is to take a hand in the graft prosecutions here. According to officers of the Voters' League, the government has promised to help run to earth the boodlers by taking part in the investigation that has already resulted in the arrest of seven members of council and two former bank officials.

The department of justice, representatives of the Voters' League say, has already taken steps to thoroughly investigate all national banks serving as depositaries for city funds. It is also the intention of the department, according to the Voters' League representatives, to begin prosecutions in United States court against former President Ramsey and former Cashier Wilsack of the German National bank on charges of illegally using the funds of the bank.

GREEKS IN BLOODY RIOT.Church Factions in Chicago Fight on Christmas Day.

Chicago, Dec. 26.—A bloody riot, made spectacular by volleys of bullets and the charge of more than a hundred policemen with drawn pistols and clubs into a mob of 300 frenzied fighters, took the place of Christmas services in the Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox church, 34-36 Johnson street. This was the second battle at the church within a week as the result of factional strife in the congregation.

The church Friday night was in a state of siege. The building was heavily barricaded. Armed guards of police and citizens were encamped within and without its walls. Further trouble was expected and the police feared violence that would result in murder. Nine men were arrested on charges of inciting riot.

RIVALS IN BLOODY DUEL.Both Rejected, They Fight and One of Them Is Killed.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 26.—A duel to the death, with knives in a dark room Christmas night between two suitors for the hand of 14-year-old Julia Plev, resulted in the death of Powell Frommlich and the serious injury of Michael Milanovitch, who is under arrest on the charge of murder. Frommlich's brother was probably fatally stabbed when he attempted to separate the fighting lovers. The girl for whom the men fought and neither of whom, it is said, she loved, was struck by Milanovitch and badly hurt.

Both Frommlich and Milanovitch on Thursday proposed marriage to the girl. She refused each in his turn. Each thought the other the cause of his rejection. Both men were boarded in the Pico home.

WAS BUFFETED BY STORMS.Steamer Pretoria Arrives After Long and Rough Passage.

New York, Dec. 26.—Having taken twice the usual time to make her run to this port from Hamburg, which she left 21 days ago, the steamer Pretoria of the Hamburg-American line arrived Friday with her log full of entries recording one of the stormiest passages in the steamer's history. The Pretoria was so delayed by the heavy weather that her coal supply ran short and she was forced to put into St. John, N. F., to replenish it.

From the time the steamer left the English channel she was beaten and tossed about by one gale after another. On December 13 the Pretoria only made 41 miles, and only 52 on the 16th. For three whole days the passengers were kept under decks.

NEGROES IN DEADLY BATTLE.Five Are Mortally Wounded in Melee at Fidelity, Ky.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Dec. 26.—Five negroes were mortally wounded in a general pistol fight at Fidelity, in the southern part of Christian county, Friday.

Charles Sanders, it is said, attempted to steal a jug of whiskey and was shot. This started a general fight, in which nearly a hundred shots were exchanged. All the participants are said to have been drinking.

Father and Daughter Fatally Hurt.

New York, Dec. 26.—In a collision late Friday between a trolley car and an automobile in the sunken roadway which crosses Central park at Eighty-sixth street, George C. Hurlbut, the aged librarian of the American Geographical society, and his daughter, Miss Elton Hurlbut, occupants of the automobile, were crushed in the ruins of the machine and fatally hurt.

Hargis Case Jurors Wrangle.

Irvine, Ky., Dec. 26.—Twelve mountain men in whose hands rests the fate of Bench Hargis, on trial for the murder of Judge James Hargis, his father, were sent to bed at six o'clock Friday night by Judge Adams after they had wrangled for five hours without reaching a verdict.

Murdered in a Church.

Louisville, Mo., Dec. 26.—George Rider, a prominent farmer, was stabbed to death by Edgar Parrish in the midst of a Christmas celebration in the Christian church here Friday night.

Burned to Death in His Home.

Roanoke, Va., Dec. 26.—In a fire which destroyed his home at Broadford, Smyth county, J. A. Gollahorn, one of the most prominent men of the county, was cremated.

AN AGREEMENT

Between the Shoe and Shoe-and-Clothing Dealers of Janesville to Discontinue Premium Inducements

Each of the undersigned five principal shoe and shoe-and-clothing dealers of Janesville, Wisconsin, in consideration of the promises of the others herein contained, hereby promises and contracts, that after January 1st, 1904, for five years, he will not, with or as inducements to purchases at his store or stores, give any tickets, stamps, coupons, checks, or any other form of promise or certificate redeemable in cash or merchandise, and that he will abandon for that time all forms of what is commonly termed the "premium business," except as provided in the next paragraph.

Each agrees that after April 1st, 1904, he will not redeem any such tickets or coupons in any manner whatsoever; but between January 1st and April 1st, 1904, tickets previously issued may be redeemed in whatever way each merchant may see fit.

Each party hereto further agrees that upon each and every violation of this agreement by him, he will pay to the Mercy Hospital, of Janesville, the sum of One Hundred (100) Dollars, and to the party furnishing the proof of such violation the sum of Fifty (50) Dollars.

For a faithful performance of the above, witness our hands this 21st day of December, 1903.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Rain or snow tonight and Sunday, warmer tonight; colder Sunday.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT

The road running up Mount Hebron, to the summit, from Hendersonville, North Carolina, is a model road, and the money and intelligence expended in its making, speaks well for the promoter and builders.

Near the top of the mountain is a little cemetery, where, on a modest headstone, is inscribed this epitaph: "Here lies Solomon Jones, the road-maker. A true patriot. He labored fifty years to leave the world better than he found it."

This is the tribute paid by friends to the memory of a man unknown beyond a limited circle, and yet whose life was devoted to the accomplishment of work so faithfully performed that the finished product will endure through many generations.

The simple tribute is suggestive of what constitutes success in life, a threadbare tale, perhaps, and yet never more important than today, when hopes are not always realized.

Much is written, nowadays, about "room at the top" and while "standing room only" describes conditions at the foot of the ladder, the man who can climb to the topmost rung will find plenty of vacant seats.

The claim is made that $25,000 men are more difficult to find than positions for them to fill. Therefore, every young man should aim high and not be satisfied short of a $25,000 job.

This nonsensical doctrine is on a par with a lot of impractical theories which have developed under the stimulus of great prosperity, and about as reasonable as the fond mother's hope, when she tells her boy that his chances are good, some day, for the presidency.

Between the foot of the ladder, where humanity struggles for bare existence, and the top, which reaches to the summit, where the scramble for money is no longer a necessity, are vast plateaus stretching out beyond the range of vision, where multitudes of happy and contented people dwell and toil, and where destiny is assigned to every faithful artisan.

These plateaus represent the world's great workshop, where farmers and mechanics, business and professional men toil side by side, and where success is so common that the records of failure only are recorded.

More than one-third the voting population of the country are tillers of the soil, yet who ever heard of a list of bankrupt farmers?

A still larger percentage of the men of the nation are expert workmen, so well qualified to fill positions in their chosen calling, that no examination is demanded when they apply for work. The simple statement that they are masons, carpenters, engineers, or anything else where skill is acquired by practice, is accepted, and they seldom fail to make good.

No record of failure is kept in the realm of professional life, for the young men who enter it are usually sharp enough to discover, early in their career, whether they have made a mistake or not, in their calling, and if defect exists they remedy it, by striking out in some other field.

The business world is the only one where a man's daily life is an open book, and where minute records are kept concerning not only his financial ability, but also his habits of life and moral character.

This is necessary, because to this comparatively limited class is entrusted the grave responsibility of maintaining the world's stock of confidence, an asset manyfold more valuable than money, and to the credit of those men it may be said, that while failures are not uncommon, but few of them are charged to dishonesty.

In all of these various channels of work, success, and not failure, is the rule and not the exception. The man who steps down from the old engine cab, after 40 years of faithful service, and turns away with regret to join the list of pensioners, has been a successful engineer, all his life.

He has pulled all kinds of trains, from the way-freight to the president's private car, and his record is clear and unblemished. He is the representative of a small army of men who are performing the same kind of work just as faithfully and well, all over the world. They are not looking for commendation, and seldom receive it, although their mission is important.

What is true of the engineer, is equally true in every channel where a great multitude of men and women are performing honest service. Useful cogs in the world's great mechanism. Silent workers who pass on and out, entitled to the same kind of an epitaph which marks the resting-place of Solomon Jones, the roadmaker.

Success in life is so common that it is seldom recognized and not always appreciated. While it is natural for the young man, on the threshold of a career, to look with longing eyes to the summit and strive with honest ambition to scale the heights. Yet it usually happens that in the striving some plateau is gained where ambition is satisfied, and he settles down to become a successful toiler.

Circumstances are great levelers to ambition, and frequently change the whole current of life. A sweet-faced girl attracts a young man's attention, before his craft is fairly launched. He sacrifices all else to gain her love, and when the new home is established, life assumes new responsibilities, and the career is forgotten.

Death comes to a home, and the boy is called back from his chosen work to fill as best he can the place made vacant by a father's loss, but like the boy with the new home, he adapts himself to changed conditions, and works out a destiny, in another field. The Detroit Free Press recently published the following little poem, which is so true that it is well worth reproducing:

"Success is not in gaining wealth,
Nor being famous. No young man!
Success is not a roll of bills,
Nor yet a touring moving van.
Success is not a house of stone,
A castle grand where you may dwell;
Success, what is it then you ask?
Ah, it is doing one thing well."

"Success is not in holding power,
To lord it o'er your fellow man;
Success—the modest little flower—
Achieve it on the Maker's plan.
The toiler in the field achieves Success, if he but goes his way
And does his duty faithfully
And gives the best he has each day."

"Success is not a synonym
For greatness in the public eye;
Unheard of and unheralded
The greatest of successes lie.
Whatever your modest task may be,
Disdain it not nor try to shun,
Perform it well. The secret learn,
Success is duty nobly done."

SANTA CLAUS IN WALL STREET.

In the snow and the frost he had wandered stray
In the town of New York, on his gift bringing way;
And while seeking warm chimneys, to brighten hearths that led,
Down a dark and cold tunnel he stumbled instead.

In a twinkling, amazed found himself,
Pack and all,
In a dark but magnificent marble-crowned hall.
With its galleries, booths, signboards, gateways and posts

On the vast floor arrayed, like battalions of ghosts,
For an instant bewildered he stood, then he smiled,
"Tis no place for the trinkets and toys of a child;
Yet for sake of the season, I'll see if I've not

In my pack a few things that may suit this strange spot."
So he leaned it against the U. P. post, and hebed
Till he dug out the various presents he wished,
And with holly he hung them on every bare post—
Long the telling of all, but these here were the most:

There were dividends extra, resumed or increased,
And successful flotations that went as if growned;
There were double big and little, all sure to go through,
Beside new gains in traffic and orders brand new;

Some increases in rates, some decisions in court
Of the welcome old "unconstitutional" sort.
Then for climax drew forth he, all new and ashine,
A gift labeled "The market of 1909";
And a moment he mused, "I must choose 'twixt the pair,
As to which I shall give it, the bull or the bear."

But a moment, though, must he, then wrote down his choice,
And departed as bells of the midnight found voice,
And which got it? On this, your own surmise please make—Never a post would Santa Claus' confidence break!

Deputy Killed at Holiday Fete.

Pryor Creek, Okla., Dec. 26.—Deputy Sheriff Nicholas Mitchell was shot and killed at Hogan Institute, 15 miles south of here, when he attempted to quiet a disturbance at a Christmas celebration. Sam and Henry Frye are under arrest and a posse is seeking George Frye. The Fryes are of Cherokee descent, wealthy and prominent.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

Copyright, 1908, by Edwin A. Nye.

A HIDEOUS PICTURE.

Alas for the rarity of Christian charity Under the sun!

About the meanest spectacle recently exploited by the Chicago newspaper is the picture of a lot of angry society women stripping the garments from some babes in court.

This is the ugly tale:
The members of the Women's club of Douglas Park, a suburb, appeared in the courtroom asking that two little twin girls be offered to the court for adoption.

It seems a Mr. and Mrs. Foss of Joliet wanted the twin children, and the clubwomen joined in the request.

The court, after hearing the evidence on both sides, concluded that the mother of the girls was the proper person to care for them and retained them in her custody.

And now comes the exhibition of gross heartlessness.

Before the children and their mother had time to leave the courtroom the clubwomen commenced to take away the clothing which the children were wearing.

These superior matrons declared they had given the children these garments believing that the Foss family would be given their custody.

NEARLY EVERY SPITCH OF APPEAL WAS STRIPPED FROM THE POOR KIDS.

Probation officers in the building at the time procured some shawls and, wrapping them about the little girls, took them into a side room.

Yes, but that is not all of the ruthless action of these clubwomen.

After the children were again dressed one of them complained of having a chill and now has a relapse from scarlet fever which the little ones recently suffered.

The child may die, and, if so, these women are MURDERERS!

Do you wonder the poor sometime, are bitter against the rich? What did the Douglas Park women care for these children beyond the mere impulse of a charity fad?

To complete the hideous picture one would only need to show the women disputing over the garments taken from the babes.

Even as the soldiers who killed the Christ of charity gathered at the foot of the cross, disputing as they divided his garments among them.

FREE ART.

Mr. Carroll Beckwith, one of our most prominent portrait painters, spoke for the artists at the free art hearing before the Ways and Means committee in Washington on Nov. 28, 1908. He presented the free art argument in a very forcible manner, and the concluding paragraph of his argument was most dramatic.

The chairman, not realizing that Mr. Beckwith was about to answer a question put to him by a member of the committee, called upon the next speaker, whereupon the members of the committee, seeing the situation and apparently eager to hear more from Mr. Beckwith, called Mr. Beckwith's attention to the fact, and Mr. Beckwith was recalled and asked to finish his remarks. A commonplace ending would have fallen a little flat under the circumstances, but Mr. Beckwith was quite equal to the occasion. He said: "I know a young American girl who took a piece of cotton cloth and designed upon it a spray of goldrod. In its original form the piece of cotton sold for four cents a yard. Her design, the result of her artistic training, increased the value of that cotton from four cents to seventy-five cents a yard, at which price it had an enormous sale. That is why art is useful to us, and that is why you should help us to get good art in this country by removing the duty upon it."

The effect of this simple illustration was electric, as it showed the committee in a new way the tremendous value of art in industry and gave them a striking reason for placing art on the free list.

BANDIT SEEKS TO MAKE TERMS.

Starr Would Surrender and Stand Trial in Oklahoma.

Guthrie, Okla., Dec. 26.—Gov. Haskell announced Friday that he had received word from Henry Starr, the notorious bandit, that Starr was ready to surrender to the state and stand trial upon charges against him in this state if Gov. Haskell would guarantee immunity against extradition to other states. Starr is wanted in a number of states for various causes. The governor said that he would not consent to such an arrangement.

Fatal Battle with Deputies.

Danville, Ky., Dec. 26.—A battle between strike-promoting miners and five United States marshals took place at Stearns, a coal mining town 60 miles south of here in Whitley county, early Saturday and resulted in the death of two men and the wounding of several others. The dead are John Millins, United States marshal, Richmond, Ky., and Richard Ross, minor.

Colored Robber Nearly Lynched.

Palmotto, Ga., Dec. 26.—Following the attempted burglary of the Palmotto bank and the robbing of the Cuthbert Hardware Company's store early Friday by three negroes one of the burglars was captured and narrowly escaped lynching at the hands of the infuriated citizens.

Kansas City Lawyer Dead.

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 26.—Henry M. Withers, a prominent member of the bar in Kansas City, died at his home Friday night of heart disease, aged 63 years. Mr. Withers was a son of Gen. Pickett Withers of the Confederate army.

Killed While Resisting Arrest.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Dec. 26.—Billy Bunch, a well-known character at Coalgate, was killed at noon Friday while resisting arrest, by City Marshal Stouffer, his brother-in-law. Six shots were fired in Bunch's body and he died instantly. Bunch opened fire upon Stouffer and Constable Kennedy when they sought to arrest him.

FEASTS FOR NEEDY

Unfortunates Are Well Cared for on Christmas Day.

GENEROSITY IN THE CITIES

Dinners and Entertainments Provided for the Poor and the Inmates of All Kinds of Institutions—Joy Marred in England.

New York, Dec. 26.—Christmas day was made a day of joy and feasting among the poor and dependent in New York and throughout the country, so far as the generosity of the well-to-do could make it so. Never before was the yuletide charity more liberally or more generally dispensed.

Favored with the abundance which the year had brought forth in more than usual measure, the rich, the well-to-do and the moderately-circumstanced had placed at the disposal of the active workers in philanthropy ample funds with which to go about the work of making the day one long to be remembered for its bounty. And with lavish hands, through a score of busy agents, the gifts were dispensed.

All the Unfortunate Aided.

The unfortunate in the jails, the ill in the hospitals, the poor in their homes and the destitute and helpless in institutions all were remembered. That not far from 100,000 persons were assisted by means of donations of dinners and the like, is conservatively estimated, while the total of those reached at first hand and by indirectness through the general outpouring of beneficence is beyond the possibility of anything like accurate enumeration.

There was no institution in the city that did not have its Christmas celebration. Special dinners, entertainments, religious exercises—all figured in their day's celebrative programs. In many of the hospitals Christmas trees were decorated, and gifts provided for all the patients.

Dinners for the Poor.

Most notable of the Christmas beneficences of the day were those of the Salvation Army and Volunteers of America. The "army" had the vast floor of the Grand Central Palace auditorium for its Christmas storehouse and drew upon its supply to send out fully 5,000 baskets each containing a Christmas dinner for some poor family. There was enough and to spare for all applicants and the generous remainder was well disposed of later in the day in deersing quarters. Between 2,000 and 3,000 similar baskets were distributed by the Volunteers of America, and other organized charities saw to it that thousands of additional homes were supplied.

In Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, and indeed all the larger cities of the country, Christmas cheer was dealt out to the unfortunate with lavish hands.

Dark Side of Christmas in England.

London, Dec. 26.—The dark side of the English Christmas is the great number of unemployed and the distressing prevalence of destitution and suffering. This is seen principally in London and Glasgow and along the Tyne and other ship-building centers, where many establishments have been closed and thousands of men are out of work.

A small band of shabbily dressed, miserable looking unemployed persons have paraded the fashionable shopping streets during the past week, threatening their way among the lines of motor cars and the crowds of aristocratic Christmas shoppers. The police accompanied the band as it marched in order to prevent disturbances. Its members shouted in unison as they marched, "We want work."

Have No Shelter or Food.

More than a thousand homeless men assembled on the Thames Embankment every night to get tickets to Salvation Army shelter. The army, however, is able to accommodate but half the crowd and the others disperse, many of them being obliged to spend the nights out of doors.

The newspapers daily record cases of men being sentenced to imprisonment for stealing food who plead that they are starving or have families suffering from want. The appeals to charitable organizations for help were never so numerous or urgent.

The Salvation Army and other charitable institutions Friday gave dinners to many thousands of destitute persons, but these Christmas dinners were not a drop in the bucket when compared with the needs of the unemployed.

Parents Fight; Baby Killed.

Philadelphia, Dec. 26.—Alfred Turner, aged ten weeks, was killed in a peculiar manner during a fight between his parents here Friday. William Turner, the father, according to the report made to the police, attacked his wife because she did not have breakfast ready when he came downstairs. Mrs. Turner had the child in her arms and in the fight she dropped it to the floor. She was subsequently knocked down or fell upon the infant, crushing it to death. Both parents were arrested.

Killed While Resisting Arrest.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Dec. 26.—Billy Bunch, a well-known character at Coalgate, was killed at noon Friday while resisting arrest, by City Marshal Stouffer, his brother-in-law. Six shots were fired in Bunch's body and he died instantly. Bunch opened fire upon Stouffer and Constable Kennedy when they sought to arrest him.

DREAD MAKING IN OTHER LANDS.

Two charming Japanese maidens making crackers in the streets of Japan.

Recent such as we see in this view are a compromise between oriental and occidental cookery. They are of various kinds, made of rice or wheat flour and baked over a charcoal fire.

Old Japan has no bread or biscuits. Rice, beans, fish, eggs and millet were and are the chief articles of food. The Japanese knowledge of bread dates from their acquaintance with the Portuguese, who first entered Japan in 1542. From the Portuguese and Spaniards the Japanese adopted the word pan, meaning bread, and several other words which today are good Japanese. Among these is kasutera, the name of a yellow sponge cake which the Japanese cooks learned to make from the men of Castile and named after them.

In 1890 there was a rage for foreign baking in Tokyo, even among Japanese men and women. Piles of loaves were seen at every little confection stall. But the fashion subsided like a fever, and ordinary Japanese victuals resumed their wonted place.

$11,000 BEQUEST IS RECEIVED BY CHURCH

Baptist Church Trustees Today Received Check from Estate of Mrs. Fannie L. Smith.

A. F. Hall, president of the board of trustees of the Baptist church of this city, this morning received a check for $11,174 from the estate of Mrs. Fannie L. Smith, who lived in Janesville during her life and who was a member of the church. Mrs. Smith was the widow of the late E. C. Smith and died about two years ago. In her will she left directions that certain real estate was to be converted into cash and the amount given to the Baptist church. The intention was that this amount should be invested and only the interest used.

A meeting of the board of trustees will be held the first of next week to decide upon the investment of the money.

BUSHEL OF PICTURE POSTAL CARDS SENT

Postal Clerks Are Almost Swamped by Cards Sent out by Janesville Residents.

While there was a big increase in the amount of Christmas mail sent out this week through the local office, more than anything else, the amount of picture postal cards bearing Christmas greetings, increased. So many were dropped into the office and collected by the carriers that they had to be handled separately after the letters had been sorted. At one time the outgoing cards standing on edge on a table made a pile nearly twenty feet long.

Add to the cards there was a big increase in the packages sent out from this city. Clerks at the postoffice say that a larger number was sent out than in a number of years.

QUARANTINED HERD NEARBY MAGNOLIA

Animal Killed by Magnolia Dutcher Afflicted with Tuberculosis—Herd Quarantined.

Acting under information received from Robert Acheson of Magnolia, Grant Fisher went to Magnolia this morning to quarantine a herd of cattle belonging to a nearby farmer. Acheson, who is a butcher, bought the animal from the farmer and at the time he seemed perfectly sound and healthy. When she was slaughtered, however, the signs of tuberculosis were very apparent and Mr. Fisher was at once informed of the occurrence by Mr. Acheson.

The farmer's herd was quarantined today and will be tested some time the first of next week.

INTERURBAN EXPRESS CAR STRUCK AND KILLED MULE

Team Was Driven Too Near to Track and On Mule Was Killed by Car.

Near Roscoe the interurban express car struck and killed a mule belonging to the Wyman Lovejoy farm near Roscoe. A team of the long-eared animals had been driven too near the crossing which runs near the farm gate and one of them was hit by the car while going at full speed, killing him instantly.

No other damage was done.

State Association of Police Chiefs to Ask for New Law at Next Legislature.

Chief of Police Baker of Racine was in Janesville today, having spent Christmas as the guest of his sister, Mrs. E. A. Kemmerer, and discussed a new law which will be introduced at the next legislature. The law will ask for the establishment of the civil service in cities of four thousand or over with regard to the chiefs of police. The intention is to have the chiefs appointed by the fire and police commission and when applicants are required to take an examination it is hoped that the commission change in the chief, which in smaller towns of first class cities, a new mayor is elected, will be obviated.

The state association of police chiefs is being reorganized and will soon have a membership including practically every chief in the state. A few years ago the organization became somewhat demoralized owing to the fact that a number of the leading members were too busy to attend to the affairs of the association. The work has now been taken up vigorously and a strong organization will soon be perfected.

GRAND ARMY "VET" DIED THIS MORNING

George Spoon, Well-known Old Soldier, Died at Home of His Brother at Ten o'Clock.

This morning at ten o'clock George Spoon passed away at the home of his brother, Solomon Spoon, 479 Washington street. He was 77 years of age. Paralysis was the cause of his death.

Mr. Spoon was born in Pennsylvania, December 17, 1831. He lived in Pennsylvania until 1846, when he moved to New York and from there came west, arriving in Janesville. He lived here several years and then moved to the coast of California, going from there to Leadville, Colorado. He returned to Janesville in 1893 and has made his home here ever since. He is a member of the W. H. Sargent Post of the G. A. R., having served in one of the Engineering Corps. He is survived by four brothers, Solomon and J. F. Spoon of Janesville, Conrad of Clelland Center and Abraham of the state of Washington; and one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Strang of Charles City, Ia.

The funeral services will be held Tuesday at the home of Solomon Spoon, Tuesday evening at 10:30, the Rev. Denison officiating. The interment will be at Footville cemetery, the services at the grave.

EXPLAINS ACCIDENTAL ACT OF A STRANGER IN CITY

Taking of Packages of Mrs. George Appleby Was Purely Unintentional.

Mr. A. Hillemeier has written a communication to the Gazette in which he declares the publicity given the story that some one stole packages belonging to Mrs. George Appleby before Christmas was not justifiable in any way. The packages were taken by mistake by a lady from out of the city who was a guest of the Hillemeiers and they were about to have returned them to Reiberg's store when they learned who the owner was. The case which was missing was appropriated by a younger member of the family who ate part of it before being discovered. Mr. Hillemeier and his wife are both honest and feel an injustice has been done them by the article which practically accused them of stealing the packages. Mr. Reiberg is also anxious for the statement that he is certain the taking of the packages a mistake.

State Association of Police Chiefs to Ask for New Law at Next Legislature.

Chief of Police Baker of Racine was in Janesville today, having spent Christmas as the guest of his sister, Mrs. E. A. Kemmerer, and discussed a new law which will be introduced at the next legislature. The law will ask for the establishment of the civil service in cities of four thousand or over with regard to the chiefs of police. The intention is to have the chiefs appointed by the fire and police commission and when applicants are required to take an examination it is hoped that the commission change in the chief, which in smaller towns of first class cities, a new mayor is elected, will be obviated.

The state association of police chiefs is being reorganized and will soon have a membership including practically every chief in the state. A few years ago the organization became somewhat demoralized owing to the fact that a number of the leading members were too busy to attend to the affairs of the association. The work has now been taken up vigorously and a strong organization will soon be perfected.

WILL BE INTERESTED IN DAM PROPOSITION

Janesville Residents May Yet See Electric Power from Kilbourn Brought to This City.

Janesville people will be interested in the interview relative to the Kilbourn Dam proposition and the generation of power for both the Buggs interurban running west from Milwaukee and the lighting of several cities, including Madison. It will be remembered that when this dam project was first discussed, Mr. Phil Spooner of Madison was seeking aid to finance an interurban between this city and Madison. He expected to utilize this power and would have brought it into Janesville. Since then several other interurbans have been projected and it is possible that Janesville may yet see power from this company in Janesville.

"After we get our dams completed at Kilbourn and Prairie du Sac," says Magnus Svenson of the Southern Power company, "electricity for light and power can be sold at a low profit in all the territory within which our operations extend at one-half the rates now prevailing; and there will be plenty of electricity to supply all existing demands. Talk about conservation of natural resources! Why, when we have the Wisconsin river harnessed at those two points we shall furnish power equivalent to the burning of 250,000 tons of coal a year. That represents a genuine saving; and the waters by which we are to effect it now run to sheer waste, and have been running so through all the ages. It has been said that our company had sold to John L. Buggs all the Milwaukee street car system and all the power we can generate at Kilbourn. This is a mistake. We have contracted to sell him just about one-half the energy obtainable at Kilbourn by the machinery to be installed at first. Mr. Buggs gets some 5,000 horsepower, while we will guarantee 10,000 at the beginning, and an additional 5,000 as soon as the works are fully completed. We shall have there ultimately 16,000 horsepower; and at Prairie du Sac 10,000, or an aggregate at the two dams of 26,000 horsepower. That is enough to give light and power throughout the great irregularly shaped territory bounded by Kilbourn, Prairie du Sac, Madison, Watertown and Portage. We expect to have the Kilbourn plant in operation early in April next; the Prairie du Sac enterprise will follow fast."

Mr. Svenson, answering a direct question, said that Mr. Buggs had not a single share of stock in these projects—he merely is a purchaser of power. Mr. Svenson added that the work was progressing rapidly at Kilbourn and had not been delayed a day by any legal obstruction.

"A temporary injunction was issued," he said, "but it has relation to the threatened flooding of the Kilbourn waterworks. Our company stands ready to fully protect those works either by raising them properly or by moving them to a higher location and paying all costs. But that matter will be composed readily."

"Raising the dams? Not a bit of it! We shall improve them—improve them greatly. That is a fact about which much misconception prevails. Now, let me tell you that the beautiful witch's gulch, eye's glen and artist's glen will remain absolutely untouched as a consequence of the dam; but cold water canyon will have its water to a depth of three feet. It is now a difficult access, slippery and disagreeable under foot. Hereafter its beauties will be revealed comfortably by rowboats. But more than this—the dam will make navigable the river above the dams, thus opening to pleasure seekers table rock and other points and objects of interest now beyond reach by steamboat. Positively the dams will be greatly beautified and enlarged as an incidental effect of the dam and Kilbourn people understand this fact."

CORN PONE AND JUST A DROP OF WHISKEY

That Was Charles Wamamaker's Christmas Dinner in Southern Prison Forty-Four Years Ago Yesterday.

"Forty-four years ago yesterday I was an inmate of a southern prison near Cahaba, Ala., and our Christmas dinner consisted of corn pone, that we made from our handfull ration of corn meal and a tiny drink of Moonshine whiskey, one of our number managed to obtain, said Charles Wamamaker today. Mr. Wamamaker was in Janesville with his wife to take Christmas dinner at the home of Mrs. William Hough where turkey and mince pies and plum puddings abounded. "We had been captured in northern Georgia by Hood's men," continued Mr. Wamamaker and were in the prison now at Cahaba when Christmas came. Jim Scott, an Illinois soldier, was our butler, and he obtained some Moonshine whiskey, white stuff so strong that a drop of it on the tongue of a rabbit would turn him into a raging lion, and with our corn pone we made merry Christmas Day. I did not get out until the year was practically over and missed Sherman's march to the sea. However, I spent Christmas in a rebel

HELPFUL WORDS

From a Janesville Citizen.
Is your back lame and painful?
Does it ache especially after exertion?
Is there a soreness in the kidney region?
These symptoms indicate weak kidneys.
There is danger in delay.
Weak kidneys fast get weaker.
Give your trouble prompt attention.
Doan's Kidney Pills act quickly.
They strengthen weak kidneys.
Read this Janesville testimony.
Mrs. D. F. Jones, living at 167 Western Ave., Janesville, Wis., says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills and found them to be a very reliable remedy for backache and kidney trouble. I suffered from pains in my back for years and although I took different remedies, I received no relief. I could not walk upright and had a constant dull pain across my loins. If I sat for a while I could scarcely get up and at night I could not rest comfortably. I noticed Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended and thinking they might benefit me, I procured a box from the People's Drug Co. They cured my trouble in a short time. My back has been strong ever since, and my kidneys are regular and normal in their action. Doan's Kidney Pills are a reliable kidney remedy and worthy of all the praise I can give them."
For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McLure Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Charence left for Silver City, New Mexico, Monday evening on account of his health. He was presented with a lovely suitcase as a remembrance of the occasion. An oyster supper was served at midnight, after which the guests departed, all wishing that they might meet again in the near future.

NEW GLARUS

New Glarus, Dec. 24.—Robert Heeder has purchased a farm at Humbler, Clark county, and will move there after New Year's.

Clarence Hefty, who attends a medical college at Chicago, is home on a visit over the holidays.

Luchinsger and Friel sold the Thos. Hum farm to Fred Schindler who will take possession after New Year's.

Mr. Schindler paid $20,250 for 236 acres including stock and machinery.

The same firm also sold the Milton wagon to Sam Erb yesterday.

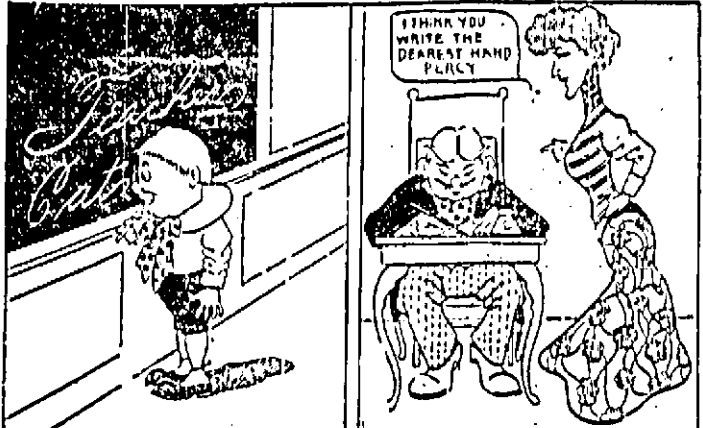

John Minge went to Milwaukee last Saturday to have one of his eyes removed which has been causing a lot of pain. He will return some time next week.

Pt. Ducrest returned today from S. Dakota.

John L. Sullivan As He Appears Today.

John L. Sullivan's recent matrimonial difficulties, which resulted in a divorce from his wife, have again brought this one-time champion before the people.

It is generally supposed that Tommy Burns is demanding too much money from the American fight promoters, who are after his first match after he lands in America. This is reported to be, according to various authorities, from $25,000 to $30,000, but when it is recalled that fifteen years ago when the great Sullivan-Corbett match was pulled off the purse was $25,000 it is not to be wondered at that today Burns is able to demand so much money.

There was never a time in the world's history when fighting was a bigger drawing card financially than it is today and yet the promoters made money off the Sullivan-Corbett fight, as they undoubtedly will make off the Burns fight.

John L. Sullivan is today considerably over weight, for he has become fat and his muscles softened by the fifteen years of comparative inaction.

HON. HENRY M. HOYT, PROSPECTIVE ATTORNEY GENERAL IN THE CABINET OF PRESIDENT TAFT.

Critics are not united as to the man who is to step into Bonaparte's shoes as attorney general of the United States. Some say it will be Wickeshaum of New York City, who is the law partner of Mr. Taft's brother, Henry W. Taft. It was originally supposed that Frank B. Kellogg of Minnesota was at the top of the available list, but it now seems that Kellogg is not a probability. The general impression is that Henry M. Hoyt may be given the place. Mr. Hoyt has been solicitor general of the United States since 1903, in which year he entered the department of justice of the United States government. He is a native of Wilkesbarre, Pa., and is fifty-two years of age. He is the son of General Henry M. Hoyt, who was governor of Pennsylvania from 1873 to 1883. Mr. Hoyt is a graduate of Yale and of the law school of the University of Pennsylvania. After being admitted to the bar he practiced in Pittsburgh and then entered the building business. He was assistant cashier of the United States National bank of New York, treasurer and later president of the Investment company of Philadelphia and held other prominent financial connections. In 1893 he resumed the practice of his profession at Philadelphia. He was assistant attorney-general of the United States from 1897 to 1903, at which time he became solicitor general. He is probably more familiar with the details of the department of justice at Washington than any other man living. He is a lawyer of force and prominence and thoroughly in sympathy with Taft's ideas. It seems to be a safe conclusion that the next attorney general of the United States will be either Hoyt or Wickeshaum.

Drunkenness Curable.

Drunkenness is no longer considered a crime; eminent scientists and physicians have agreed that it is a disease and must be treated as such.

The home treatment that has been used for a number of years, and is highly successful, is Orrine. It is sold under a positive guarantee that if it does not affect a cure your money will be refunded. When desiring to give secretly, purchase Orrine No. 1, and if patient will take treatment, Orrine No. 2, should be given. Orrine costs but $1 per box. Stalled on receipt price. Write for free booklet on "Drunkenness." The Orrine Co., Washington, D. C. Sold in this city by People's Drug Co. and King's Pharmacy.

MANY HAVE DIED
DURING PAST YEAR

LIST OF SOME OF THE PROMI-NENT MEN WHO PASSED AWAY.

LIST IS UNUSUALLY LARGE

Year Nineteen Eight Has Witnessed Deaths of Persons of Prominence
the World Over.

Washington D. C., Dec. 25.—Montality has been unusually great among the distinguished men and women of the world during the year just drawing to a close. Death looms a shading mark, it is said, and during the close of the year, it is said, it has indeed, reaped a deplorable harvest in all branches of human activity throughout the world. He has respected not rank nor station neither nationality nor sex, neither refinement nor merit.

Nearly every country has had to pay a heavy tribute to the storm reaper and in many cases the great men taken off could ill be spared, as they were in the midst of important work when the call came and they were compelled to leave the crowning work of their life unfinished.
Many of them had reached the high tide of their usefulness and the world had a right to expect even greater things from them than those they had already contributed to the progress and betterment of the human race.

The ranks of royalty and nobility were thinned by the death of several crowned rulers of nations. The most important loss was that caused by the recent death of T'ai-ai, the Dowager Empress of China, undoubtedly the greatest woman of her time. In comparison with the death of the empress of China, was an event of but little significance. Less important, though more shocking, was the death by assassination of Carlos I, King of Portugal, and of Crown Prince Luis of Portugal. Among other members of royalty or nobility who died during the year may be mentioned Prince Ernest of Saxe-Altenburg, Prince Gustav Ernst of Schoenberg, Duke Karl of Mecklenburg, Duchess Elizabeth of Brunswick, Prince Pon-toliowski, Grand Duke Alexis of Russia, the Duke of Devonshire, the Duke of Harcourt, the Earl of Dorset, the Earl of Rosse, the Marquess of Linlithgow, Prince Yamashita of Japan, Prince Stephen of Montenegro,
Prince David of Hawaii, the Duke de Chaulieu, Count Leopold of Lippe, Viscount Chelton and Lady Lello.

The list of statesmen and diplomats whose thread of life was severed during the year just ending, included not less than five former presidents of American republics, chief among them Grover Cleveland, former president of the United States.
The other ex-presidents were Estrada Firma of Cuba, J. M. Marroquin of Colombia, Ignacio Valentinillo of Ecuador, and Marco A. Soto of Honduras.
F. Guachin, president-elect of Bolivia, died before he had taken his seat in the capitol of his country.
This country deplores the death of four United States senators, W. P.
White and E. W. Carmack; Belgium lost the death of Senator de Motere, England suffered serious loss by the death of Sir Henry Campbell Bannerman, Sir Edmund Wolff, Sir Howard Vincent and Sir Nicholas O'Connor. Belgium was deprived of the valuable services of its premier,
M. de Troos. To this list may be added Marquis Aranha, ex-premier of Spain, Marquis di Rudini, ex-premier of Italy, Baron von Stenberg, Ignaz von Ploner, the Austrian statesman, Count Ignatius and M. D. Potokoff, distinguished Russian leaders, Count Torrelli and Count Prietti, distinguished Italian statesmen, E.
de Strobel, adviser to Spain, D. W.
Stevens, adviser to Korea, Kamel Pasha, the Egyptian patriot and political leader, Mariano Quiroga of Porto Rico, Shyid Muhammad, the Persian statesman and the two English leaders, Sir Henry Pileston and Lancel Stockwell-West.

Governor John Sparks of Nevada was the only state executive in this country who died during the year, but the list of former governors was depleted by the death of Miller of North Dakota, Murphy of Arizona, and of California and Sawyer of New Hampshire.

The church, in this country as well as in other countries, has sustained equally great losses by the death of distinguished clergymen. The Presbyterian church in the United States lost four great men, Bishops H. C. Potter, H. V. Satterlee, Edward Knight and Eliason Capers;
the Protestant Episcopal Bishop Edward Wilson; the Methodist Church Bishop H. C. Fowler; the Moravian church, J. M. Levering; and the Roman Catholic church, Bishops Curtis, Horstmann and Tierney. The list also includes other distinguished ministers and dignitaries, among them Dr.
Charles Culbert Hall and Dr. J. H. H.

FOR PIMPLES, TOO

New Discovery Cures Eczema and Eradicates Minor Skin Troubles Overnight.

A few months ago the dispensers of possum, the new discovery for the cure of eczema, decided to allow the druggists of the country to handle it. Previously to that time it could only be obtained direct from the laboratories.
Since this change in the method of distribution, possum has met with the most phenomenal success of anything introduced to the drug trade in the last 30 years. All leading druggists, including Holmstrom's, The Smith Drug Co., and the People's Drug Co., in Janesville are now carrying the special 50-cent size recently adopted, also the 25 cent.

This great success is not surprising when it is remembered that in eczema cases, possum stops the itching with first application, proceeds to heal immediately, and cures chronic cases in a few weeks. In minor skin troubles, such as pimples, blackheads, acne, herpes, blotches, rash, etc., results show after an overnight application.
Experimental samples of possum are sent to anyone by mail free of charge, by the Emergency Laboratories, 32
West Twenty-fifth Street, New York City.

gan Dix in the United States and a number of French, Italian and Spanish cardinals, archbishops and bishops.

The armies and navies of the world contributed a considerable share to the list of the distinguished deaths of the year. Three lieutenant-generals were gathered to their fathers in the United States, A. P. Stewart of the United States Army and Egan Hanton and Stephen Lee of the Canadian army. Following in army rank came Generals Josiah Plémet, George Jackson, John Greener, Whittaker Henshaw and Milford. Among the distinguished men of the American navy, who have gone to their last port, are Rear Admirals Richardson, Hilditch, Gogswell, Crownshield, Eithian, Cogswell, Glas, Mann, McIlwain, Miller, Rockhill, Thomas, Russell and Cockburn.
England deplores the loss of Gen.
Sir Rodders Baper and Major General C. E. Luard; Japan the death of General Nodzu and Okawara; Russia
the death of Gen. Linovitch; France has lost Gen. Jules Lovet and Vice Admiral de Tromelin; Hungary, Gen.
Stephen Turay; Germany, Gen. Count
Hoselzer; Turkey his war minister,
Reich Pasha, and General Omar
Pasha and Druggan; Gen. Gallieran Garcia.

In the ranks of distinguished educators death also caused a serious breach, which it will be difficult to fill. The list of the deaths during the year includes Henry Hopkins, former president of Williams college;
Daniel C. Gilman, Professor E. G.
Bourne of Yale; W. A. Wyckoff of Princeton; W. L. Montague of Amherst; Henry Loomis Nelson, of Williams; Gustav Boserup of Paris, Otto Pfeiderer, University of Berlin;
Friedrich Paulsen, of the same university; Prof. Leopold von Ranke, of Berlin; Prof. Wilhelm Giese of Harvard and Charles Elliot Norton.

Among the shining lights in the world of science who paid their tribute to Nature during the year just closing, were Henri Becquerel, the discoverer of the "Radium Rays," Johann von Karmarsch, one of the greatest anatomists and surgeons of his time; Prof. C. A. Young, the astronomer; Sir John Elliot, the meteorologist; Alfred Marsh, the geologist;
Dr. Broderick and Prof. Kollerman, zo-ologists; Mylius Erichsen and Prof.
Leslie Lee, explorers; Hartwig Doren-burg and Prof. E. L. Roehrig, orientalists; Antonio Menocal, Oliver W.
Harvey and Samuel D. Lee, engineers; and Louis T. G. Seiffried and Léon Foucault, aviators.

Literature did not escape the fate of science and the ranks of its great men, poets, novelists, critics and translators have been ruthlessly invaded by death. The United States was robbed of its Joel Chandler Harris, widely known under the nom de plume "Uncle Remus," and J. H.
Randall, the author of "Maryland, My Maryland." England deplores the loss of Allen Tate, the novelist, Emile Gohmert, the historian, and his wife, Adelaide Luchner; Germany the Carl Ewald, Theodor Dahnke, the
Dr. also includes Francis Coppin, Edmund C. Steinhilber, H. H. H. Drachman, Louis L. Emil Carothers, Louis Chandler Shuman and Susan Sweet, all more or less distinguished poets; John C. Collins, the critic; Herbert Alsworth B. Stanford and the translators Katherine Wormley, Anne Lee Wilbur, John Durand and
M. H. Kline. Quite recently "The" Marcel was added to the list.

Among the artists who crossed the Divide during the year were several meritorious painters, including Walter Saterlee, George Chickerling Munzie, Marcel Jambon, Pierre Manguin, Antonio A. E. Herbert, Giovanni Fallori, Imogen Robinson Morel, Adolphe Steinhilber, Baptista Manzoni, William Cullow and Frederick Warren Preer
and three prominent sculptors, Harro Mannsen, Julius Meichner and Harrie Hower. To this list may be added Ludovico Selz, director of the Vatican Museum, Peter Jansson, director of the Dusseldorf Gallery, the architects Leopold Ehlitz and Ferdinand Meidner and William Busch, the humorist and cartoonist.

Musical art suffered great loss by the death during the year of several distinguished composers, among them Edward MacDowell, Rimsky-Mors-kov, Prof. Parham, Jaime Numa, Decatur Smith and William Mason.
Three famous violinists, Pablo de Saragate, August Wilhelms and Marie Pfecher, the prima donna Clara Novello and Pauline Lucca and Auguste Clausel, the conductor, also went to the "Great Beyond."

The drama and the stage have been made poorer by the loss of three famous playwrights, Victorian Sardon, Bromson Howard and Alfred Larrow; while the list of players upon whose life the final curtain has fallen, are Lydia Thompson, James H. Wal-lick, Boyd Puleston, Lily Hanbury,
"Tony" Pastor, Peter E. Dalley, "Gus" Rogers, John Wheeler, Hugh Toland, Frank C. Bangs and Mrs. G. C. Howard, the original "Topsy."

The realm of the press was also invaded by the merciless reaper, who gathered in, among others, Sir James Knowles, founder of the Nineteenth Century, Robert P. Noyl, founder of the Pittsburgh Times, Julian Hankow, owner of the St. Petersburg Technica, Emory Smith of the Philadelphia Press, Marat Halstead, long connected with the Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette, Crosby S. Noyes of the Washington Star, Samuel E. Mottet of Collier's Weekly, the correspondents William L. Alden, Dr. Max Falk, James Jeffrey Roche and Joseph Howard, Jr., and a large list of editors and writers.

The list of distinguished dead of the year would not be complete without mentioning some of the prominent philanthropists and reformers, like Ira D. Sankey, Edward Wetherill, Sir William Crocker, founder of the Interparliamentary Union, the Rev. Ben. Wagon, founder of the English National S. P. C. K., Sir Joseph Dunstan and James Wallace Pin-chell.

The business world too has had severe losses through the death of men like Morris K. Jessup, William F.
Vine, Geo. P. Morosini, Oliver H. P.
Belmont, George H. Daniels, William
Sells, John Baker Roush, John H.
Jackson, Lord Horries of York, Sir George Livesey, Baron Wansell of Tolkin, Sanchez Bustillo of Madrid, Wilhelm Lueser of Copenhagen, St.
von Schwabach, St. Petersburg, Rene Panchard, Paris, and many others.

The list of distinguished men in Canada, who died during the year just ending, is unusually long and contains the names of men, whose country could ill afford to lose. Among them must be mentioned Sir Adolphe Caron, former minister of militia and defence and postmaster-general for the Dominion of Canada; Sir William Whiteway, former premier of Newfoundland; Thomas Greenway, former premier of Manitoba; George A. Wall-ton, former premier of British Columbia; and Hon. Arthur Peters, premier of Prince Edward Island; Dr. Albert E. Douglas, speaker of the Legislature of Prince Edward Island; Capt.

Charles H. Ross, captain leader in Newfoundland; Sir Napoleon Cas-sault, former chief justice of the supreme court of Quebec; Justice Drake, the distinguished jurist and parliamentary leader, the Very Reverend James Carmichael, Lord Bishop of Montreal; three prominent college professors, Rev. Father E. Paradis, N. R. Carmichael and John Bradford Chesnut; Canada's most distinguished poet, Dr. Louis Hémon Franchette; Brigadier General Henry Vial, Inspector general of the Canadian militia; John H. Mc-Keown, Inspector-general of Newfoundland, and Sir Robert Gillespie, a prominent capitalist and railroad builder.

RULES RELATING TO POSTAL REGULATIONS

Instructions on How to Use Stamps on Foreign Letters

Now.

A two-cent stamp will carry a letter from the United States to any part of the British Isles, and after January 1 next to any part of the German empire.

There are limitations, however, to the carrying power of a two-cent stamp, which correspondents should take note of in order to facilitate the work of the postal authorities and prevent annoyance to their addressees.

The new rate applies only to letters transmitted by direct routes—letters to Germany, for instance, will be transported for two cents only by steamers which have a German port for their destination.

They will not be carried to England by an American or British liner and transmitted thence to Germany, except at the five-cent rate of the Universal Postal Union.

The writer should designate the route or steamer on the face of the stamp, leaving a blank space, otherwise the recipient may be obliged to pay an excess charge.

If the person addressed is a tourist or commercial traveler going abroad from country to country, it is advisable to use a five-cent stamp as heretofore. Of course, letters will be forwarded to persons who change their address even when postage prepaid is not sufficient, but a two-cent letter arriving in England after the person to whom it is directed has left for France or Germany will be delivered subject to an extra charge of twelve the deficiency of postage.

On ordinary letters this penalty amounts to six cents. If the letter exceeds the unit weight of one half ounce the excess charge would be sixteen cents or more.

Under a special arrangement the French liners will transmit letters prepaid at the new rate from Havre or Cherbourg to England. The rule, however, does not work the other way about, France not having responded to the overtures of this government in the matter of reduced postage.

The French steamers, therefore, will transport English letters for two cents prepaid, whereas on direct mail to France the charge remains five cents. The new rate does not apply to any of the British colonies except Canada, with which we have had a special arrangement for many years, though there is a universal two-cent rate in force within the globe-gridding British empire.

The multiplication of rates may prove a little confusing to letter writers who have become accustomed to a single rate extending throughout the Universal Postal Union—which is to say the whole civilized world and a large part of barbarian lands.

The inconvenience will be borne with patience, however, pending the almost inevitable extension of the penny post to the greater if not to all nations of the earth.

QUICKSAND DELAYS
THE N. W. DEPOT

Vagaries of Soil Compel Change in Work on Northwestern Depot.

Vagaries of Chicago geology will add about $500,000 to the cost of the new Northwestern depot which is being constructed in the area between Canal, Clinton, Randolph and Madison streets. Quicksand in deep strata has been discovered, setting at naught the original engineering plans.

The unstable soil was first found just north of Madison street and west of Clinton. The discovery was entirely a surprise and sounding was begun at once to determine how much of the other area was similarly underlain.
The result showed that about three-quarters of the site is at least three to four feet of quicksand and in some places the depth of the troublesome stratum reaches seventeen feet.

Two experts of national note who handled the situation in New York at the laying of the two big river tunnels of the subway, when quicksand trouble of the kind in the history of America, were called upon by telegraph and were set at work to overcome the newly found difficulty.

Pneumatic System Used.
It was found that in the territory where the quicksand lies the ordinary boring processes must be abandoned and the pneumatic system was installed. Huge compressors which at a single downward blast blow away hundreds of feet of earth perpendicularly, leaving a cylindrical cavity three feet in diameter, were shipped here and are now at work.

The quicksand was found to lie at varying depths. In one place it was uncovered seventy feet below the surface, but in most places it lay about eighteen feet below the level where the "filled in" earth composed of sand, stone, rock and gravel lies.
It was originally intended to drive the caissons 110 feet down, to a foundation in the clay or "hardpan," but when it was found that the quicksand appeared at almost any depth somewhere in the territory it was decided to drive the holes down 140 feet to bedrock so that all the posts may stand upon the solid formation.

This change is extremely expensive.

The George A. Fuller Company, which has the contract for the major portion of the construction, has notified the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad that the cost will be much larger than originally expected, and has been forced to overcome the difficulty at any expense.

Chicago Soil Treacherous.
The process of boring by pneumatic pressure is practically new in Chicago. An outside casing of steel is sunk, leaving a cylinder of earth within it, sixteen feet deep by three feet across. The pressure is then applied and it drives the sand and water through the bottom, where it runs off like so much liquid. This process is repeated until the bore reaches the native rock.

George W. Jackson, who is constructing the terminal, has found conditions similarly difficult. This company has solved the problem by making the caissons thicker, rather than deeper, and is satisfied with the firmness of the pillars to a depth of ninety feet and a thickness of four feet.

The engineers say that Chicago soil is alive with quicksand in the territory about the river banks and that when the Dearborn street bridge was built a deep stratum of the watery soil was struck after digging seventy feet through solid clay and earth.

MANY ENJOYED THE SKATING YESTERDAY

Holiday And Good Ice Brings Out Crowd on the River Yesterday.

As yesterday was a holiday and the ice on the river was in such shape a good sized crowd of skaters took advantage of the circumstances to enjoy the skating. Several hundred were on the ice during the day.

The river is entirely frozen above the dam and some of the more adventurous spirits who skated up as far as the Four Mile bridge reported that the ice was in good condition up that far and the river all frozen over.
The ice, while not very thick, seemed safe and there were none of those embarrassing cracking sounds heard which usually indicate unsafe ice.

Several ice games were indulged in during the day and there is talk of forming a number of teams, who will be members of a league. These teams will probably be chosen from the different wards but in case more than one is organized in a ward they will still be admitted to the league.

yesterday and a large crowd thronged the roller rink both in the afternoon and evening.

STAMP CAMPAIGN
IS BEING PUSHED

Must Sell 20,000 a Day From Nov. 11
to January 1st to Reach 1,500,000 Mark.

There is still time to "Buy a Red Cross Stamp" and assist one of the worthiest benevolent enterprises in modern history—the crusade against the great white plague.

The Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, with headquarters at 411 Goldsmith building, Milwaukee, is out to sell 1,500,000 stamps by Jan. 1. It has to sell on an average of 20,000 a day from now until next Thursday night. This can be accomplished if the people of the state continue to show the enthusiasm that has marked the campaign since the beginning.

If Wisconsin falls in the Red Cross campaign, it will be adding a black mark to its hitherto excellent record in coming forward to assist enterprises that have for the object benefit of mankind. This crusade is to wipe out the most terrible scourge of today, consumption.

By spending a penny today, every person who does so not only adds a little mite to a fund to be devoted to wiping out the dread disease, but he will be sending a message of love and hope in the battle, which has only just begun.

Who cannot afford to spend one cent? Who cannot afford to spend one cent in such a great cause?
The Red Cross campaign will not let up until midnight, Dec. 31. Everyone of the 1,500,000 stamps must be sold at that time. It is for the benefit of the state and for the honor of the state. It should not fall now.

BELOIT BOY STARTED WEST TO KILL INDIANS BUT IS NOW IN A CHICAGO JAIL

Had a Small Revolver And Was Arrested, Charged With Carrying Concealed Weapons.

Joseph Donchick, a Beloit boy, left the farm of his father a week ago to shoot bears in the West with a small pocket revolver. Instead he is now in a cell in the Englewood police station, Chicago, where he arrived thrust out Thursday afternoon. While he was asleep Policeman Martin Doot noticed a large holster hanging from the boy's belt. It was a small vest pocket revolver.

"What are you doing with that 'big gun'?" inquired the policeman.

"I am going out West to shoot Indians," he replied.

Instead he was held on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, December 26, 1868.—Christmas, in all its pertains to real solid enjoyment the Christmas eve and Christmas day just passed rank among the very pleasantest on the calendar, so far as this locality is concerned. Many little hearts were made glad by Christmas trees in the two Episcopal churches, in the Methodist, Presbyterian and All Souls' Church and the usual bestowal of gifts in the private circles was the order of yesterday. Both on Christmas Eve and yesterday the weather was delightful, and the river being frozen over and the skating excellent, there was a genuine carnival on the ice. Our Scotch fellow-citizens spent a part of the day, Christmas, at the game of curling at the skating park of J. W. Allen & Co.

FERD. T. HOPKINS, Prop. 37 West Jones Street, New York

CHAMP CLARK, THE LEADER OF THE MINORITY IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, HIS WIFE, SON AND DAUGHTER

Washington, Dec. 22.—No more interesting character is to be found on the floor of the house than Champ Clark, the newly elected minority leader, who succeeds John Sharp Williams. Mr. Clark is the representative of the Ninth Missouri district and has held office continuously since the fifty-third congress. He has long been recognized as one of the strong men on the floor of the house and his elevation to minority leader is the reward of his unceasing efforts in behalf of democratic ideas and legislation.

Mr. Clark's family circle is one of the best and most popular in Washington. His wife was formerly Miss Genevieve Bennett and his son, Bennett Clark, and daughter Genevieve Clark, who are not old enough to enter into the social festivities of the capital, are charming, bright and popular.

BREAD-MAKING IN THE ORIENT. No more primitive form of bread-making is to be found in the world today than that of Syria. Here the natives make bread out of the same materials. Over the entire type of stove, as their forefathers did 5,000 years ago. The above view is, indeed, characteristic of the Oriental home on baking day. The whole family helps.

The father is sitting on the ground and is putting new fuel on the fire over which the bread is baked. The mother, with her little child on her shoulder, stands near the wall looking on. One of the daughters is kneading the dough, while the boy in the doorway is an interested spectator. The hearth is simply two stones raised on end, over which an iron plate is laid, on which the bread is
